DISPUTE OVER WATERFRONT AT BERKELEY

BERKELEY, Sept. 19.—Charges of dishonesty and misrepresentation in the wording of a new waterfront lease proposed by Councilman Charles D. Heywood were made this morning by Mayor Bartlett at one of the stormiest sessions ever held by the Berkeley council. Mayor Bartlett declared that the promise of the city to reimburse the lessee of the city's tidelands at the expiration of 50 years was nothing more or less than a dishonest statement. He declared that the city did not have within its power jurisdiction over acts of any future city council.

This redemption clause in the lease asks for things that it does not mean," declared Mayor Bartlett. "It is doing a dishonest act and I for one am against it."

Councilman Heywood, the author of the lease, declared that the lease was a fair one. He said that the city was not giving away the waterfront, but was merely leasing it. He said that the city was not giving away the waterfront, but was merely leasing it. He said that the city was not giving away the waterfront, but was merely leasing it.

A clash between Councilman George Schmidt and Mayor Bartlett interrupted the proceedings at this point. Schmidt charged City Attorney F. B. Cornish with ignoring his duty and playing a game of delay in holding up waterfront development. This was promptly denied by Mayor Bartlett, who declared that Cornish was doing his duty and thought only to protect the city.

A lease passed by the council at last Tuesday's meeting was rescinded this morning on the motion of Councilman Heywood, and a new lease comprising changes offered by the city advisory board presented in its place. The vote on the new lease precipitated the storm. An attempt on the part of Councilman Charles Bartlett to delay action on the lease until next Tuesday was defeated. Heywood's new lease was passed with the vote of Councilmen Schmidt, Harms, and Heywood, with Mayor Bartlett and Councilman Bartlett voting against it.

Tuesday, September 30, at 9:30 a. m., was set as the time for receiving bids on the new lease.

JOHNSON SEES TREATY DEFEAT

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 19.—Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, in address delivered to a special session of the Minnesota legislature today, presented his arguments in opposition to the unequal ratification of the league of nations covenant.

The senator expressed the opinion that if action on the league could be delayed sixty days, the people would speak in positive terms and insist upon its defeat or amendment so as to protect the country's interests.

"Public sentiment against the league is growing every day and is fast assuming the proportions of a revolution," said Senator Johnson. "The treaty of peace was made in accordance with the contracts secretly sealed and delivered among England, France, Italy and Japan. We talked of what the treaty should contain, but the treaty when written contained what the other nations wanted and followed their secret bargains."

He referred to the fourteen points which President Wilson had declared would be incorporated in the peace pact and asserted that he was obliged to abandon them one by one and accept a treaty written by European diplomats.

"The President got just what every man gets who plays another man's game. I do not question Mr. Wilson's intentions. There is a certain place paved with good intentions and this country does not want to go there."

WILSON TRIP TO OAKLAND FILMED FOR THE KINEMA

The camera men of The TRIBUNE-Kinema Weekly were in the city early and late yesterday. From the time President Wilson's car touched Oakland soil from the ferryboat the crank of the camera was going steady. The President standing in his car acknowledging the welcome extended by the girls from Mills College with their offerings of flowers, the trip up Broadway and the thousands of children greeting him on Harrison street, the tremendous crowd that had gathered on Broadway, by the Technical high school and at other points of interest were filmed. The camera men were so anxious to get all of the very best pictures of the President that they were a little over-indulgent and the secret service operatives were about to arrest them at one time. However, explanations saved the men from a period behind the bars.

40,000 Will Hear Wilson Tonight San Diego to Pack Big Stadium

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19.—President Wilson arrived here at 11 a. m. today on the way to San Diego. It was expected his train would be delayed at River Station about twenty or thirty minutes while it was being transferred from the Southern Pacific to the Santa Fe tracks.

By JAMES H. RICHARDSON, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 19.—Standing in a plateglass cage and speaking into an electrical apparatus that will throw his voice so that it may be heard for a mile, President Wilson, who arrives here this afternoon, will probably have the largest audience of his countrywide tour when he makes his address at the great city stadium at Balboa Park.

The stadium has a seating capacity of 40,000 and it is fully expected that the crowd gathering to hear the President's address will equal, if not exceed, that number.

For the first time in his career, it was said, the President will speak from a glass cage when he gives San Diego his views of the League of Nations and the peace treaty.

EVEN A WHISPER CAN BE HEARD.
The cage is made of plate glass and is a little larger than a telephone booth. The front side will remain open and those who have experimented with the apparatus say that the faintest whisper can be carried to all parts of the huge stadium.

Brass bands decorated with flags and banners on which were printed the words, "Welcome to Our President."

A rousing reception has been planned for the presidential party. Sharp at 3:30 o'clock orders have been issued for every whistle in the city to en route to San Diego.

OXNARD FOLKS SHAKE PRESIDENT'S HAND
OXNARD, Calif., Sept. 19.—There was another good crowd to greet the President when his special train halted here. Both the President and Mrs. Wilson went out on the platform and shook hands with the people.

At Ventura a crowd of more than 3,000 people had gathered to greet the President but the train went through without stopping.

WAVES TO CHILDREN
SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 19.—A crowd of several thousand persons, including hundreds of school children, got a glimpse of President Wilson as his special train passed through Santa Barbara this morning en route to San Diego.

TUMULTY GETS BUMP AS CAR HITS LUMBER

Joseph Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, today is nursing several black-and-blue spots and thanking his stars for a lucky escape, following an accident last night at the Auditorium, when, as the presidential party was leaving, Tumulty's car struck a pile of lumber before the municipal building.

Tumulty, jolted out of his seat, felt against the driver, but clutched tightly the case of private papers of the President that he carried. The automobile was not damaged and proceeded under its own power after the accident. Tumulty said that he "got a bump; that's all."

The lumber had been left beside the roadway, by gardeners and could not be clearly seen in the darkness and crowds surrounding the machine.

Mayors of Bay Cities Laud Constituencies

The following proclamation was issued today at the instance of Mayor John L. Davis of Oakland, Mayor Louis Bartlett of Berkeley, Mayor Frank Otis of Alameda and Mayor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco:

The President of the United States has honored the cities of San Francisco Bay with a visit, always to be remembered as one of the inspiring incidents of our history as an occasion wherein we expressed to the nation's chief executive in unmistakable fashion the sincere respect we bear him.

Men, women and children—all citizens of the bay region, joined with a splendid enthusiasm in the sustaining of our reputation for hospitality, of which we feel proud.

In making and carrying out of plans for the President's reception the cooperation was absolute and we, the mayors of four leading cities, point to this significant, gratifying fact.

We are one in our Americanism, with our love of country and our desire to show distinguished visitors that we know how to make them welcome. What we have engendered, let us foster. May this spirit of amity result in a union of thought and feeling among us that shall stand for all time.

BULGARIANS, DENYING GUILT, HANDED TERMS

PARIS, Sept. 18.—(By The Associated Press).—The treaty of peace between the allied and associated powers and Bulgaria was presented to the Bulgarian mission at the French foreign office this morning at 10:40 o'clock.

After the delegates had assembled, Georges Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, spoke briefly in opening the session. He was followed by General Theodoroff, head of the Bulgarian mission.

Mr. Theodoroff spoke for fifteen minutes, pleading that the Bulgarian people were not responsible for the war, but that the Bulgarian government had thrown the country into the struggle. He realized, however, he said, that the people must share the responsibility.

NATION-WIDE STEEL STRIKE DECIDED UPON

ASSOCIATED PRESS.
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18.—Labor leaders from various sections of the country who attended the meetings during the past two days of the national committee for organization of steel workers, were en route to their homes today to make final arrangements for the nationwide strike of iron and steel employees not working under agreements, which is to go into effect next Monday.

All hopes for a postponement of the strike until after the industrial conference in Washington October 1, as requested by President Wilson, were lost yesterday when the committee voted down a motion to read the strike order and adopted a resolution favoring the walkout.

The boys who were honored were: Wilfred Wyckoff, George Lavenson, Melville Gabrielson, Jack Sherwin, Merle Basham, Harmon Bell, Arthur Merrill, Henry Doane, Clinton Doane, Lester Kent, George Jones, Louis Vincent, George Cockerton, George Johnson, Fred Johnson, Leslie Bell, John Madras, John Corrick, John Corrick, John Day, Thad Sheridan, Harold Lamoreaux, Elwood Fitzgerald, Waldron Matson, Frank Gager and Norval King.

All told they sold $162,350 worth of bonds.

South Chicago, Gary, Indiana Harbor and Joliet.

John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the conference of steel strike leaders, is expected here today and will personally direct the strike in this territory.

In the meantime members of the Lake Seamen's union are holding a strike vote to be completed Sunday. The members of this union are employed on the Pittsburg Steamship company's ore boats. This company is owned by steel corporation and operates hundreds of ore boats on the lakes.

SUN AND CITIZENS UNITE IN GIVING WARM WELCOME TO U. S. EXECUTIVE

Mrs. Wilson Shares Day's Honors with Famous Husband

By EDNA H. KINARD.

We, the people, last night hailed the man whom nearly seven years ago we elected our representative and spokesman.

We, the people, last night assembled to look upon that personage whom nearly three years ago we again appointed to the highest place within our gift, because he had kept us out of war.

We, the people, last night gave tribute to the President of the United States whose name forever shall be written in burning colors in the history of the great world war.

For the first time in those tragic three years we came together with music and laughter and rare good nature. For the first time in all those dark days women and little children need not wipe moisture from the eyes which bore witness to the heart.

For the men whom they loved had fought the good fight and the President of the United States had come into Oakland to tell them intimately of his end. Above the sea of faces the flags of the allies, with the Stars and Stripes predominant, made a solid canopy of brilliant and expressive colors.

Row after row, tier upon tier of white spotches edged with all the colors of the world, showed that the granting of safe steel corporation and operates hundreds of ore boats on the lakes.

and that noble part which they had played in the terrible tragedy of war, they had come in even greater numbers than the men folk to hear with their own ears the vital questions of international portend discussed. The men were there, too, but California women outnumbered them.

SUN PLAYS WARM ROLE.

President Wilson and his party arrived at the stroke of 8. It was noon when the first women took up their place on the steps of the massive auditorium under the blazing sun. They had brought along their sewing, their books and their supporters, and all day long, in whispered tones, they told each other of this thing called the League of Nations and the covenant of peace. It was 6 o'clock when the big doors of the auditorium swung open. It was 6:15 when the doors swung closed.

Every seat, every aisle, every conceivable place where foot might rest, thronged, and as many more disappeared and grieved crushing against the archways and massing the steps.

"Columbia," the Gem of the Ocean," Dixie," "Yankoe Doodle," "Swanee River"—Steindorf and his band played them all, and more, too, and wave after wave of cheers came back to greet the old heart favorites.

Handkerchiefs and streamers and papers of faintest blue, the times did the crowd come to its feet and three times did it subside before it was willing to listen to Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt in her introduction of the international figure, the President of the United States.

Mrs. Wilson, a rounded figure, clad in the blue that suggests night, followed her husband up the short steps to the high platform on which was seated the presidential party, passed before him as he acknowledged the plaudits of the Oakland throng, taking her place on his right. It was a lovely sight, that dress, simple with all the art of the modiste, and with it worn a smart, small hat of the same tone.

A tremendous corsage bouquet of orchids, half hiding the bodice beneath their lavender hues, was worn.

It remained for Oakland to invite a woman to introduce President Wilson. Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of the college, who spoke for her sisters at that brilliant luncheon which, less than a fortnight ago, welcomed Secretary of the Navy Daniels, last night welcomed the executive of the great nation.

"Shall I say a few words," asked Dr. Reinhardt of the assemblage following her introduction by Mayor Davis.

TEXT OF WELCOME.

"Yes," thundered back the voices of those who had heard. In voice that carried even to the back of the big arena, the woman college president spoke in this wise:

"From Washington westward to the cities of the Golden Gate, one has come delivering in person a message of national opportunity and international good will. Today we have welcomed with flowers and sunshine, with waving flags and shouting throngs, the President of our republic, who has served our country as commander-in-chief of America's victorious armies fighting for the principles of democracy.

"Tonight, with alert minds and ardent ears, we await his message of a potential peace.

"Mr. President, we are aware that our country was founded on faith in individual integrity, and faith in national integrity. As exemplar of America's achievement, we await your message of her present privilege that the world may maintain in peace the fruits of a just war.

"Of what use is man's life but to pave the way for the firmer footing of generations to come. In the days of Washington and Jefferson this nation proved that to the people themselves might be trusted the nation's government. In the day of Woodrow Wilson may this nation further prove that founded firmly on national integrity, to the people themselves may be left the international relationship of the world. Citizens of Oakland—our President."

Once a woman's voice on the front row caused surprise to President Wilson on his declaring that he was awaiting to hear from the Senate of the United States how long he should be kept out of the membership of the great body, devoted the shrill feminine tone, "Ask Johnson."

Once woman's laughter, bubbling, spontaneous, the kind that enjoys a huge joke, broke through the semi-seriousness of the crowd. The President told the people to get a copy of the documents which set forth the League of Nations and covenant of peace, and read them for themselves. "Skip the technical parts," he advised, "and read them. One meek, eye even old-fashioned, soul, leaned toward her neighbor and smiled as prelude to the mirth, "Why don't he ask us how many have read it?"

Persons suffering from catarrh, deafness, or who have trouble in hearing and have head noises, will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrh of the ears, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmitin (double strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmitin is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial. Advertisement.

Present Orchids To Mrs. Wilson

BERKELEY, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson's love for orchids formed the inspiration for a pretty compliment paid her during her stay in the bay section by a coterie of well known members of the Women's Democratic club of Berkeley.

When Mrs. Wilson arrived at the St. Francis hotel Wednesday morning she found a great cluster of the beautiful blooms in her apartments.

More arrived as each occasion she was to appear in public approached. As a result the first lady of the land was never seen without a corsage bouquet of orchids when she appeared at her husband's side to acknowledge the greetings of the people of the bay section.

Yesterday at the Greek theater Mrs. Wilson wore three of the rare exotics, while at larger cluster adorned her costume last night at the Oakland auditorium.

Miss Bertha Rickoff, president of the Berkeley Women's Democratic club, was responsible for the pretty compliment, while the women who joined her in honoring the President's wife included Mrs. Louis Bartlett, Mrs. C. C. Emile, Mrs. T. C.

GIVEN WARMEST RECEPTION HERE

President Wilson received in Oakland the most enthusiastic reception accorded him since he started on the present trip, according to the newspaper men who have traveled with him since he left Washington. "The enthusiasm here seemed to be spontaneous and sincere," said Philip Kinsey, formerly a local newspaper man, now with the Chicago Tribune.

The thirty odd newspaper men with the President, including Kinsey, have been making staunch friends of Oakland. The Publicity Bureau of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce turned over to them all the equipment of the offices, such as typewriters, telephones and other necessities, and arranged for a special messenger service when required.

The Publicity Bureau also cooperated with W. C. Jurgens, the manager of the Hotel Oakland, in providing entertainment for the visiting newspaper men. Light refreshments were served.

HANDLING OF WILSON CROWD HELD PERFECT

The visit of President Woodrow Wilson and the incidental handling of what was perhaps the biggest crowd in the history of the city, has proved a brilliant triumph for the "first line of defense" of Oakland, the Oakland police force. Despite the congestion, despite the thousands clamoring for admission to the auditorium, despite the danger from agitators and malcontents, several of which were recognized and quickly weeded out of the crowd, the incident at the auditorium progressed with machine-like smoothness, aisles were kept clear, the crowds seated until the big building was filled, and then the doors were promptly locked and the waiting throngs outside held away from the path of the automobiles that passed. Not a mishap marred the meeting.

Arrangements at the auditorium were handled by Chief of Police J. F. Lynch, Captains Walter Peterson and Charles Beck, and the seating arrangements were directed by Manager George Keefe of the auditorium. At 6 the doors were thrown open, with policemen stationed as door-men, policemen watching the aisles and policemen watching the paths leading to the big building. Lines for automobiles were kept clear through a solid sea of humanity, and when word came that the auditorium was filled the big doors were closed and announcement made to the thousands left outside that no more could be accommodated.

NO FAVORED PLACES. That meant no more. There were no favored persons; the police knew no one; their edicts were final. Any in the auditorium were not allowed to be blocked.

On the south side the space from the corporation yards to the stage door was solidly packed with humanity. Here Captain Beck assumed charge, clearing the way for the President's car to drive to the stage door and for the secret service car to follow. Here, too, he recognized several suspicious characters as the President entered the building.

Backing up the gang, Beck sharply ordered that "No man raise his hands higher than his hips," and promptly singled out the man suspected and ran them from the grounds. Within a cordon of policemen he kept the lane for the automobiles open, at the same time seeing that no women or children were injured in the process.

Police details in plain clothes guarded all doors of the auditorium, and watched with the President's secret service guard, under the direction of Captain Walter J. Peterson. Peterson himself was in uniform and assisted Chief Lynch in keeping order and in maintaining traffic.

BUSINESS ACCOMMODATIONS. More than twelve thousand persons were seated in the auditorium. Despite the throng, the press section, where the telegraph men flashed the speech to all parts of the country, and the local newspaper "crowd" at the event, was kept clear for those who had business there, and a lane was kept open throughout for the messengers. Eastern newspapermen traveling with the President were emphatic in their praise of arrangements for taking care of them. They had no trouble in getting in and there was no one in the press section except these their own newspaper business. San Francisco newspapermen said that the arrangements were as fine an example of what should be done as arrangements for the day were of what should not be done.

Had Billions Attacks. "Some time ago I had indigestion and frequent bilious attacks. I procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets and was greatly surprised by the quick benefit I received from a few doses of them. One bottle cured me as I have not had any return of them," writes Mrs. Ella Wright, Chillicothe, Mo. If you have any trouble with your digestion give these tablets a trial. They will do you good. President Expresses Thanks for Welcome

Cheered to the very steps of his private car, the "Mayflower," President Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and the Presidential party, left Oakland at the sixteenth street depot at 10 o'clock last evening. As the train pulled out, he expressed to the citizens' committee of both Oakland and San Francisco his appreciation of the welcome extended him.

The Presidential special, routed through Niles, San Jose, Santa Barbara and Los Angeles was due at San Diego, its destination, this afternoon. There the President will then be spent in Los Angeles, after which the President will return by the valley route to this part of the state, visiting Sacramento and Reno on his way to Salt Lake City and then to the coast.

The President will not speak at Sacramento except, possibly, from the platform of his coach.

8000 Ship Workers Give Wilson Ovation

President Wilson got a close-up of the Eastbay shipbuilding industry as the Enchanted, bringing him here from San Francisco yesterday afternoon, passed the Moore and Scott plant on the estuary. The 8000 employees of that corporation lined the docks and ways that gave vision of the President's ferry and cheered him to the echo as the boat drew abreast.

Behind them the whistles of the plant gave screeching support. President and Mrs. Wilson left the automobile in which they were seated and came to the edge of the ferry's deck to bow and wave a recognition of the salute.

WILSON VISITS SISTER-IN-LAW IN BERKELEY

President Woodrow Wilson, after traveling across the continent, found that the world wasn't so very wide, after all, when last night he dined with his sister-in-law and her husband, Berkeley residents. At the dinner at the Hotel Oakland, before he made his speech at the municipal auditorium, the President held a little reunion with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Elliott of Berkeley. Mrs. Elliott is a sister of the first Mrs. Wilson.

Mrs. Elliott rode in the parade with the present wife of the nation's executive, while her husband, Edward Elliott of 33 Canyon Road, Berkeley, a local attorney and former University professor, rode in another car. The dinner at the hotel was a strictly family affair, attended only by the President, Mrs. Wilson and the two guests from Berkeley.

Prominent Citizens Have Seats of Honor

The receiving party at the Auditorium last evening had all taken seats on the stage before the President's arrival. The lifting of the curtain had entered the hall discovered them for the first time to the great audience before the stage. Among those who occupied the seats of honor were Dr. Archibald Reimhardt, the chairman; Mayor John L. Davies, Robert M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. T. W. Potter, Joseph J. Rosborough, William B. Bunker, Mrs. E. L. Ormsby, Mrs. H. H. Hoyt, William J. Hayes, Fred M. Hunter, Mrs. Georgia Hodgman, Joseph R. Knowland, E. A.

Fifty-seven Churches Give Wilson Memorial

Fifty-seven Presbyterian churches and their 20,000 worshippers in the bay cities presented a piece of redwood burl, mounted in silver, and a memorial note of greeting through a delegation which waited upon the President and Mrs. Wilson at the Hotel Oakland last evening. The committee of presentation included Rev. H. I. Kerr of Oakland, Rev. L. B. Hill of Berkeley and Rev. Josiah Sibley of San Francisco. The memorial reads thus:

"The San Francisco Presbytery extends its hearty greeting to you, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, upon the occasion of your visit to the San Francisco bay cities, and rejoices in the high mission upon which you have come, believing that the League of Nations represents a sincere effort on your part to apply Christian principles to international relations. We pray that the covenant of free people may be established, guaranteeing peace and good will among men."

A Traveling Man's Experience.
You may learn something from the following by W. H. Ireland, a traveling salesman of Louisville, Ky. "In the summer of 1918 I had a severe attack of cholera morbus. I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and to take no substitute. I took a double dose of it according to directions and went to sleep. At five o'clock next morning I was called by my order and took a train at my next stopping place, a well man." Osgood Bros. Women Propose New Federal Amendment

By EDNA B. KINARD

It would not be surprising if a new federal amendment had its initiation right here in Oakland and with the women at that. All which goes to prove that feminine eyesight is good and that feminine brains are better. But even if Congress does not consider that matter to which the Oakland women are giving thought, it is something to have been able to have thought it. Mrs. Mary F. Merrill, leader of the Farmanbury Law class, Oakland center California Civic League, presented the proposal to her sister students this week.

They were discussing the status of the national prohibition amendment which has been passed by Congress and ratified by sufficient number of states and which yet is not operative, thus becoming unique in all the amendments which yet have been written to the federal constitution. It was when the opponents of the prohibition amendment of 1919 were defeated, becoming a law by a resort to the referendum in those states where referendum provisions held that the great majority of the people then came the supreme court of Nevada with a decision which supported the claim, and making paramount to the decision of the legislature the result of the referendum. So the fate of prohibition awaits.

What Oakland women suggest is a federal amendment which shall provide for a submission to the people of those states where referendum acts are operative proposed federal amendments, which shall become the decision of the legislature of that state. In this way it is pointed out further enactment of legislation may be avoided. Something like 13 states already have adopted laws relating to initiative and referendum. Advocates of the system point out that a federal amendment along this line would give impetus to all other states to pass similar laws.

If anything could be more frolicsome or more frivolous than a camp fire links the Home club members have not been able to think of it. Guests for Thursday evening, October 2, are cautioned to come in sport or outing togs which from the outset spell informality. The links will have as host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Mills with the entire personnel of the board of directors in the receiving party. Dancing and a supper will round out the opening function of the season.

It is announced that members who resigned during the period of the war will be reinstated, thus conserving the unity of the important East Oakland Hill club which including men and women is devoted to the interests of home and those things for which the home stands.

Lake Merritt is fast coming into its own. For years the lovely body of water has lain neglected in the heart of the city and people have skirted its shores and looked with indifference upon its beauty and gone forth to dance or shows when all erlings for the fall semester and will take the form of a card party. Husbands and escorts have been invited and members anticipate a most enjoyable evening.

Two hundred guests called at the Frank Stringham home in Berkeley this afternoon when Mrs. Stringham entertained for Mrs. Fred Kirby of Long Beach, a summer visitor in Berkeley. About a dozen intimate friends assisted the hostess in greeting her guests in the beautiful gardens where the informal reception was held.

Another affair at which many Eastbay matrons were guests was the bridge and tea given by Mrs. Frank Chiles for Mrs. John Hostatter.

In Alameda Mrs. Clement Rowlands entertained today for Mrs. Edward Valentine and Mrs. Irving Culver, a number of the brides and brides-elect calling.

Mrs. George Perkins Baxter is home from Del Monte where she has been sojourning for the past two weeks. The family is again at the Baxter home in Claremont.

Important decisions will be made at the executive meeting of the Women's Legislative Council of California which will be held in Los Angeles tomorrow. Directly facing the organization which is represented by the entire womanhood of the state is the fight to save the statutes of California a community property law. Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quartet of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands and see how quickly the freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—Advertisement.

Ginger Blamed for Increase of Drunks

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The elimination of arrests for drunkenness which prohibition enthusiasts predicted would follow the official banishment of booze, has not yet materialized, especially in some cities and towns in this state. In Wakefield, for instance, there have been more cases of drunkenness since July 1 than before the arrest for the same offense last month just doubled those of July. Jamaica ginger seems to be the popular substitute in Wakefield and the police are planning to start a drive against the sale of "Jacket."

STORM-SWEPT CITIES PLEAD FOR MORE AID

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Sept. 19. The toll of Sunday's tidal wave and hurricane was today placed at between 350 and 425 dead and property loss of $20,000,000.

Almost continuous rain since Sunday has made difficult the problem of taking care of the 3000 homeless.

Former Mayor Roy Brown again appealed for outside assistance today.

OFFICER DRAWS LINE AT MIXING IN FAMILY JARS

A mother has no right of priority over a child, according to Night Captain of Inspectors James T. Drow. Furthermore, he doesn't propose to fill the role of Solomon and judge in a case like that, anyhow. Wherefore William Osbourne, 1425 Ninth street, has possession of his 13-month-old child, and Mrs. Osbourne can't get it back until she gets a court order.

Mrs. Osbourne, who is separated from her husband, appeared at the police station late last night and demanded that her husband be arrested as a kidnaper, because, she said, he had taken away their child.

"Madam, as a Solomon I am a good cop," said Drow. "When you get papers giving you the guardianship of the baby, come and see me. Until then—Jim Drow, brave as he is, isn't brave enough to mix up in a scrap between husband and wife!"

The wife said she would seek papers in court at once.

WOMAN MEETS DEATH UNDER CAR'S WHEELS

While thousands of spectators assembled about the Municipal Auditorium to greet President Wilson looked on, Mrs. Belle Taylor, 622 Sixth street, walked to her death last night before a Key Route train at First avenue and East Twelfth street. The woman was ground under the wheels of the train, and the fire department had to be called to extricate the body. It was not until early this morning that the body was identified.

According to bystanders, the woman had stepped from the rear of a west-bound street car directly into the path of the Key Route train, rapidly approaching from the other side, with Motorman A. B. Betzler, of 1340 Hearst avenue, Berkeley, at the controls. Before the motorman could bring his heavy cars to a stop the front trucks had passed over the woman's body.

The victim was finally identified by William Taylor, a deputy sheriff and employee of the Rhodes-Jamison Company, as his wife. Mrs. Taylor had planned to go to the auditorium to see the President, the police believe, and had gotten off a block before her destination. In her hurry, it is believed, she forgot to watch for trains as she started back toward the municipal building. She was 64 years of age.

MOTOR TRAIN RUN TO L. A. PLANNED

Plans for the holding of the first highway motor train from San Francisco to Los Angeles and return are nearing completion. A committee meeting was held in San Francisco today by the heads of the California truck distributing firms and Firestone Ship by Truck Bureau. A set of rules has already been adopted.

In order to bring Ship by Truck very forcibly to public attention in California, and throughout the country, the motor train's return trip from Los Angeles will be a non-stop run in order to ascertain the exact time necessary to transport a shipment of goods over the five hundred miles of coast run. Observers will watch the movement of the train very closely, and it is expected that a fund of valuable information of interest to everyone interested in Ship by Truck will be developed.

Wingfield Sells Out His Interest in Bank
FALLON, Nov., Sept. 13.—George Wingfield has sold his interest in the Churchill County Bank to George B. Williams, C. W. Foote and Thomas Dolf of Fallon, who were minority owners. The purchase of Wingfield's stock makes them the practical owners. It is said Wingfield sold because he wants to centralize his banking interests in a few of the principal cities in Nevada and California.

SIX SHIPS TO BE LAUNCHED HERE OCT. 11

National significance will attach to the launching by the Moore Shipbuilding company on October 11 of six steel vessels, and the Chamber of Commerce took steps today to assist the company in preparing and carrying out a program in keeping with the importance of the event.

It was planned to extend an invitation to President Wilson and his wife, although, of course, they will be unable to attend. It is hoped, however, by the officers of the company and by those of the Chamber of Commerce to have the President transmit a message of congratulation when the vessels slide down the ways.

The launching will be a record-breaker not only in the number of vessels, but in the tonnage of steel sent into the water. More than 5000 invitations have been sent out to federal, state, city and county officials, and to congressional delegations from California.

Officers of high rank in the army, navy and marines will be asked to attend with their staffs. The bands

Recommendations of the Central Telephone Workers' committee, which met recently in San Francisco, will be voted upon Sunday afternoon by 650 men and women telephone company employees of Alameda county at Corinthian Hall, Pacific Building. This is the most important mass meeting held by the telephone workers since the strike period of several months ago, and all members are urged to be present so that a comprehensive ballot may be taken. The meeting is scheduled for 2 o'clock.

The vote will be taken on recommendations made by the central committee, in which the following provisions, vitally affecting the telephone employees, occur: Electrical workers (men)—$8 wage, daily; 44-hour week and one closed shop principle. Operators (girls)—Beginners, $3; after two years' service, $5; the closed shop principle.

Similar balloting on the same provisions will occur at all central laboratories of the three branches of the service. It will also be invited together with a large number of soldiers, sailors and marines.

Following the launchings, there will be a parade in which it is expected that the Eastbay cities will take part. This will make its way through the principal downtown streets to the Chamber of Commerce headquarters, where further ceremonies will be held.

Plans are progressing well with the committee in charge of Shipyard and Metal Trades Laborers No. 25's social meeting September 26. Many novelties have been obtained for the program. The committee members are as follows: A. E. Crowe, Clarence Perry, A. C. Hansen, E. G. Stewart, Chase H. Adams, E. J. Hancock and L. R. Stout. Officials of No. 25 report an increase in the number of members initiated every weekly session. This impetus is the result of a recent court decision handed down by Superior Judge Trabucco, giving to the union all rights to its $15,000 funds and all equipment on hand.

In the conciliation proceedings, which aim at peace between Local 25 and the dual Shipyard Workers' Union No. 15430, officials of the first-named organization reiterate their determination not to allow their delegates to sit at the treaty table until A. F. of L. Organizer W. E. Castro resigns as a negotiator.

Results of the vote taken by members of Electrical Workers' Union No. 355 on the 4-cent wage increase have not yet been tabulated, according to Press Secretary M. R. Wimsatt. The ballots will be counted shortly. Five new members have been taken into the union, making the electrical workers in this county nearly 100 per cent in organization. The union is represented in the municipal Plumb plan negotiations.

LONDON SILENT ON WILSON'S IRISH VIEWS

LONDON, Sept. 19.—President Wilson's statement regarding the position of Ireland under the League of Nations has not attracted great attention from the London press.

Cabled reports of the statement had a fair showing in the newspapers of Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning, but none of them commented upon it. The repetition of the statement in San Francisco with some American press comment regarding it, was printed in some of today's morning newspapers but the editorial silence remained unbroken.

The election laws of California require voters to be registered thirty days before the election. That every voter may have the opportunity of voting in the school bond election to be held on October 21, arrangements have been made by the school board with the county clerk's office to have a registration deputy present in every school building in the city tomorrow, Saturday, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Lieut. Cobbledick and Bride Arrive

Bringing with him the former Miss Marie Locke of Dawson, Ga., as his bride, Lieutenant L. N. Cobbledick, vice-president of the Cobbledick-Kibbe Glass Company of this city, has just returned from overseas to his home here to resume the duties of civil life.

The romance, which culminated in the wedding solemnized in New York City, August 18, began in Paris, where Lieutenant Cobbledick was stationed. He met his bride there, where she was serving in the capacity of secretary with the Red Cross. The groom was in charge of the mail service at the Peace Conference.

AUTO CAVES IN FRONT OF STORE

W. E. Meek, a farmer of Hayward, is held in the city prison today on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, following the wrecking of the glass front and much of the contents in the grocery establishment of E. L. Brown, Thirty-seventh avenue and East Fourteenth street.

The entire front of the store was wrecked and show cases and plate glass windows smashed.

Mrs. Lizzie Dodge of 3711 East Fourteenth street was sleeping over the store and was awakened by the crash. She told the police she saw Meek trying to drive away from the scene.

In response to her call to the police, Patrolman C. E. Tutu found Meek in a machine driven by W. R. McCoy of Curly's Auto Service.

Whitehead is Chosen Fire Chiefs' Head

Elliott Whitehead, chief of Oakland's Fire Department, was elected president of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs at the convention just closed in Portland. Harry W. Dunsmuir of Seattle, was re-elected secretary, a position he has held for twenty-two years.

The next convention will be held in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Fresno having been the other contenders.

ACCUSED DOCTORS MAY LOSE LICENSE

Dr. James E. Thompson, held in the city prison on a charge of having performed an illegal operation, is to face charges before the state medical board as well as before the local courts. This developed today when Captain of Inspectors Petersen sent to the state medical board a complete report of the alleged operations, the chase to Mexico and other facts in connection with the case. Thompson's case is set before the state examiners for September 21, when proceedings to revoke his license will be started.

At the same time the case of Dr. Ephraim Northcott of San Francisco, arrested in connection with the Inez Reed case, will be heard by the state board.

The Thompson case was called to the attention of the state board by Petersen, who, a month ago, sent a preliminary report to the body, charging Thompson with having performed an illegal operation.

First Division Men to Be Demobilized

CAMP DODGE, Iowa, Sept. 19.—A thousand or more men of the famous First Division, regular army, will be demobilized at Camp Dodge, probably next week, according to information to camp officials here. The soldiers will be from Iowa and surrounding states, it was said.

OBJECT TO AIR LANDING; TOO MUCH CUSSING

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—Western Pacific shippers do not want the Sacramento Aviation company to land in the field opposite their shops. "Too much cursing," they explained to the city commission today.

HOSPITALS ONLY FURNISHED ICE

Hospitals of Alameda county are the only institutions that will receive ice during the present strike of ice wagon drivers and cold storage workers. This announcement was made today by Business Agent S. Anderson of the drivers' union, after representatives of the ice companies affected had agreed to the move.

Unless relief is accorded within twenty-four hours Alameda county will be iceless. Already ice-cream plants, butcher shops, ice plants, dependent on the larger companies, all ice-using households and restaurants are feeling the pinch. Danger to huge food supplies is apparent. The men are striking for higher pay.

WOMEN'S LIVES MENAGED BY HOSPITAL FIRE

Fire threatened the lives of 28 girl inmates, 5 of whom were ill, at the Salvation Army Rescue and Maternity Home, at Beulah station, causing a damage of $1000 at 10 o'clock this morning.

Brave rescues were effected by five woman officers, who were ably supervised by Commandant Nora Hindspeth. Five women, with newborn babes by their side, were carried from the house that was rapidly being enshrouded with smoke.

The conflagration, starting from a defective stove, apparently, spread throughout an attic. Flames consumed several trunks of clothes and furnishings. The fire then spread to the roof and burned a large hole.

The prompt arrival and quick work on the part of the fire department prevented more serious loss. Chief W. L. McGrath and Captain Max Dorman supervised the crews of Engine Companies 18, 17 and 14 and Truck company 2.

Playground Hikers Plan 9-Mile Walk

Hikers and enthusiasts after outdoor life may partake to their fill this week-end if they wish to join the Oakland playground department walking tour Saturday and Sunday. Under supervision of Miss Louise Klingelhofer, department guide, the party will leave from the city at 9 o'clock Saturday afternoon. After an all-night camp at Bolinas Bay and a morning swim, the hikers will proceed to Mill Valley via Willow Camp—a distance of nine miles. The public is invited. Blankets or sleeping bags, together with food for three days and the necessary car and boat fares.

Ugh! Calomel Sickens; Salivates! Please Try Dodson's Liver Tone

I am sincere! My medicine does not upset liver and bowels so you lose a day's work.

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated, breath bad, stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick; you may lose a day's work.

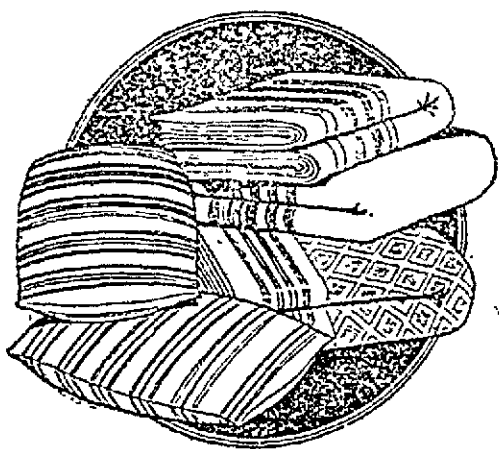

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver, which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into your bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents under my personal money-back guarantee here.—Advertisement.

that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful, full of vigor and ambition.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless, and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.—Advertisement.

Doug' Fairbanks to Appear At the American Next Week

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, inimitable screen comedian, who will be seen at the American Theater next week, commencing Sunday, in the first production from his own studio, "His Majesty, The American."

Fairbanks fans, who never thought they would be surprised at anything, don't know about their business. And stand in a good way to be startled at some of his new tricks and stunts in "His Majesty, The American," which is to be presented at the American Theater all next week, beginning Sunday. His invigorating novelties simply cap the climax and guarantee to be a sure cure for the blues, and to enervate the most effete.

Doug is to play the part of a young American who simply cannot keep out of trouble. But he has a way of getting out that is fairly shivering. He just hops from one tight corner into another, and always comes up with a grin. He takes a hand in all sorts of situations which lead him all over the world. He tries to show the New York fire department how to run things, and helps the police raid the den of a king of the underworld. Not

MORE INTERPRETATIONS.

Effective in all cases, the method of questions and answers has proven highly satisfactory in obtaining from the President categorical statements upon some of the disputed provisions of the peace treaty. The questions asked also showed that it would have met a large demand and probably proved of real advantage if the official copy of the peace treaty had been more widely distributed. Despite numerous criticisms to the contrary, the peace treaty is not obscure in its meaning.

It may be said of it that it is the clearest document of state ever produced. Its framers abandoned the traditional forms of writing treaties and adopted a straight-forward, frank and popular method of describing the conditions and purposes which it was desired to have the document express. Most of the doubts that exist concerning the interpretation could be cleared away by a careful reading of the official text of the treaty, this notwithstanding that a few very able pleaders have feigned not to understand them.

In answer to prepared questions submitted to him the President in answers, published in yesterday's TRIBUNE, records his very carefully phrased interpretation of provisions of the covenant that have formed the foundation for many criticisms by league opponents.

As to the charge that Great Britain will outvote the United States by virtue of having six members of the league assembly the President both explained the reason for Great Britain being allotted six votes in the assembly, and the fact that these votes will count no more in the decisions of the League of Nations than the one vote of the United States. Six votes were assigned to self-governing portions of the British Empire because these dominions have in all but foreign policy become autonomous self-governing states. "In all but foreign affairs their policies are independent of the control of the British government, and in many respects dissimilar from it."

"But it is not true that the British Empire can outvote us in the League of Nations," explains the President, "because in every matter except the admission of new members to the League no action can be taken without the concurrence of a unanimous vote of the representatives of the states which are members of the council, so that in all matters of action the affirmative vote of the United States is necessary and is equivalent to the united vote of the representatives of the several parts of the British Empire. The united votes of the several parts of the British Empire cannot offset or overcome the vote of the United States."

It is also explained that the League of Nations does not empower foreign countries to order the sending of American troops to foreign countries. The right of Congress to determine such matters is no wise impaired by the League covenant. This was not due to any conscious reservation on the part of the treaty commissioners, but to the limitation imposed upon both the President, and Senate as the ratifying power, by the Constitution, a fact that has previously been explained in these columns. It is a prerogative of the House to provide methods of raising and organizing armies and appropriations for their maintenance. The Supreme Court has repeatedly affirmed the doctrine that there is no authority for abridging any of the constitutional privileges of the House of Representatives by means of a treaty agreement.

The President's claim that the League of Nations will have a very powerful effect in forwarding the final restoration of the German rights in Shantung to China is encouraging if true. But it does not dissipate the regret that this work was left to the League of Nations by the peace conference. The Shantung rights should have been restored directly to China in the peace agreement and not given to Japan. The omission to do this has provided the basis for considerable dissatisfaction with the peace treaty but not with the League of Nations.

A CORDIAL RECEPTION.

President Wilson received yesterday a magnificent welcome from the people of Alameda county. It was a hearty, spontaneous outpouring of the citizens of the Eastbay district to do homage to the first citizen of the Republic.

There may have been many persons along the route of the President's journey through Oakland and Berkeley yesterday afternoon who did not agree with his policies and with his proposals for the guidance of the future conduct of the United States in international relations. But this was not in evidence. The only thought in the mind of the people was to see the President and make him feel that their loyalty to the government and to its first representative knows no division.

The attendance at the auditorium last night to hear the President's discussion of the peace treaty and League of Nations could not under any circumstances have been larger or more impressive. It was an attentive, respectful audience, exhibiting a genuine interest in the message which the President had to deliver.

The President should carry with him a very pleasant memory of his visit to Oakland and the cordial reception he received at the hands of its citizens. On their part the residents of this community will remember it as one of the happy and notable events of their lives.

AN INDUSTRY PASSES.

A war industry that has suffered an altogether expected decline is chrome mining. This business occupied a large number of Californians during the war when chrome was in great demand for use in the steel industry. In compiling figures on chrome production the United States Geological Survey received reports from nearly three hundred correspondents who were operators or owners of chrome mines in 1918. As most of these operators were in California and other Pacific coast states a considerable number of chrome miners have been released for other activities.

Between January 1st and July 1st, 1919, about 1100 tons of chrome ore was mined and shipped from three mines, two in San Luis Obispo county, California, and one in Wyoming. In addition 300 tons of chrome ore mined in 1918 was marketed during that period. The two mines in California appear to have been closed down, at least for the present, so that the Ferro Alloy Company in Wyoming is the only active producer of domestic chrome ore.

This condition shows a remarkable contrast to that which prevailed in 1918, when there were nearly 600 active owners and operators of chrome properties and the total quantity of chrome ore shipped was $2,350 long tons of all grades, by far the greatest annual output of domestic chrome ore ever marketed in this country. In 1918 California produced 63,061 long tons, Oregon produced 18,155 long tons, and Maryland, North Carolina, Washington, and Wyoming produced the remainder. Georgia, Montana and Pennsylvania produced some ore in 1918 but did not ship any.

The imports of chrome ore during the first half of 1919 amounted to 19,658 long tons. Nearly half of it came overseas from Oceania, and the average price of the ore in the country of its origin is reported to have been about $36 a long ton.

The decline in the domestic production and market in the first half of 1919 is general and overwhelming, sparing only localities favored by cheapness of local transportation, high grade ore, or cheapness of production. It is evident that now, as before the war, the demand for chrome ore required for consumption in the United States is supplied by imports and not by domestic production.

When you speak of the wise men of the past, please bear in mind that in their days there was not so much to know as at present.

THE MONOPOLY OF COTTON.

One of the apparent results of the destructive war that has produced so much trouble in the world, is enabling the cotton producers of the Southern States to monopolize the cotton market for the year to come. Whether it will be for their future interest to do so is a different question. As the result of the convention of the Cotton Association just held at New Orleans, organizations are formed in the ten States for working together in purchasing cotton in order to maintain prices agreed upon. A scale of bottom prices to be charged for the new crop was fixed at 25 cents a pound for the month of September, to be raised by half a cent a month until it reaches 40 cents in the month of May.

Whatever may be said of the merit of this plan as a business proposition for the cotton growers and traders, there is no doubt about its being in purpose and effect a monopolizing of the market, not only in this country but in Europe, if not in all the world, at least for a year or two. It is just about three years that considered fairly profitable before the war, it can hardly be deemed otherwise than excessive, even considering the lifting of costs and prices generally since. Still, it may be determined by the actual relation of supply and demand, and the consequence of what has been happening in these late years. But its effect is sure to go beyond one crop and one year's trade, and it may become quite different from that counted upon now.

There are cotton growing regions in southern parts of Europe and in the Orient, as well as in other regions of the continent and the neighboring islands. This extensive price for a single season will stimulate a large increase of production in other parts of the world and prepare the way for real competition. That will increase supply while demand will become more normal and prices will come down. How far that will be, cannot be calculated now, but if the growers of the South take up their combination, which is in violation of Federal law for all industries but farming, they will not escape competition and control profits. If cotton growing is made less a monopoly and farming industries have a more normal and varied development it may be all the better for those States good for the whole country.—New York Journal of Commerce.

NOTES and COMMENT

The President has been received and welcomed in a becoming way, one that is peculiarly characteristic of California, which puts its predilections and affairs aside and votes its attention to making the distinguished visitor within its gates feel at home.

Stanford had the parade all ready for the President when the information came that he could not visit the University. That the students pulled it off anyhow, as a kind of mock affair, with a substitute, is being criticized, but no disrespect to the President appears to have been intended.

While the war was in progress d'Annunzio gained world applause by his patriotic activities; but he has somewhat dimmed his glory by defying the Italian government and leading a rebellious movement at Fiume. The idea that a poet could perform practically as patriot, which obtained from his first activity, has been discouraged by this later course of action.

The wine men and the Irish attempted to attract the President's attention through the advertising columns. It is illustrative of the modern way. In the days of Frederick the Great, petitions were got up to him to the end of a pole. But it is a long cry from that time to this, and no parallel is possible between the situations or personages.

The statement that a three-billion national deficit is threatened, it is hoped, is susceptible of ameliorative explanation. The spending of public money may have been reckless, but it is sincerely trusted that it is not as bad as that.

Herbert Hoover calls socialism "an economical and spiritual fallacy." This is a new definition, but it furnishes ground for argument and that is one of the requisites of the cult.

When any government activity approaches the commercial side of life there seems to be no elasticity. The sale of surplus government food and stores affords an example. It cannot be done promptly and conventionally, but is hampered by rules and regulations. In an instance now pending civilian help familiar with commercial processes is being called in.

The President's friends and defenders certainly have been afforded an argument in the mighty desire to hear and see him. None of the five Presidents who visited California before he was met with such an outburst.

Judge Dunne of San Francisco manifested a mood of no great propriety in a decision the other day. In approving an expenditure for the headstone of a decedent who had foretold the hour of his death the magistrate recommended that it bear the inscription, "Here lies a man who knew more than most men." While all know it is inevitable, very few can tell when it will befall.

The Richmond Terminal shoots a dart. "Oakland's city utility department advertised for bids for a steam roller, the kind that manures the street macadam; but many a bid did the city get. It seems strange too, for 'my city Oakland' to be shy on steam rollers—especially the variety used in the vicinity of the city hall."

This from the Santa Rosa Republican, heretofore some appearance of being sane: "It is said that 'the unexpected' always happens. It surely does. The auto ferry left Sausalito at its scheduled time of 10:20 p. m. Sunday exactly to the minute. We are now prepared for most anything."

Merely an observation from the San Jose Mercury Herald: "Nobody seems to be kicking about the high price of chili peppers."

The Willows Journal dips into unaccustomed matters: "Booze was invented by a fish. See first chapter of Matthew, fifth verse."

The season's record marlin sword fish was brought to gaff Sunday by Mr. A. W. Hooper, of Boston, while trolling from the launch Swastika. The committee having in charge the Oakland District Fair proposes to break a bottle of champagne to dedicate the completion of the Stanislaus good roads system next Saturday. The plan is to have a bottle of champagne around loose in Oakland it might be a good plan to save it for a few years and then sell it and build a few more miles of concrete roads with the proceeds.—Modesto News.

The end of the moonlight nights marked the resumption of activities by the sardine fishermen, and big catches were made last night. The fish cannery received 110 tons this morning, and the other canneries in New Monterey also received fish in large quantities.—Monterey City Press.

HOW TO INCREASE PRODUCTION—A LESSON OF THE STATE FAIR.

President Wilson's Oakland Address

By FREDERICK FAULKNER.

President Wilson, in his speech in Oakland Municipal Auditorium last night, changed from his usual tactics of discussing the agreement of Versailles. He put the treaty as it constitutes a war settlement first and discussed that feature of the treaty ahead of the covenant of the League of Nations. He presented the treaty as a document clinching and preserving the decisive victory which the American army and the armies of the Allied powers of Europe won over the military forces of the Teutonic alliance.

That was a happy shift. It immediately drew closer to him the many thousands of earnest citizens within his hearing, and they followed him with rapt though responsive attention. He began by talking about the very things the audience wanted to hear about. The result must have pleased the President. It would have pleased anybody. Rarely, if ever, has there been observed such a vast audience that was at the same time as decorous, respectful, attentive and without warmly responsive to the thought and words of the speaker.

Oakland did herself proud, it may be said, by the way. The seven or eight thousand people who were unable to get into the great arena of the auditorium was a splendid complement, and of the twelve thousand that did get in, not one uttered an unharmonious remark. There was no untoward incident. Arrangements and conduct were perfect.

The first observations of the President were in effects and purposes which have not been seriously disputed; on the contrary they have been conveyed to the consciousness of all who have followed the course of the war with an interest friendly to the cause of the United States.

"In the first place," said the President, "the treaty imposes upon Germany a proper penalty for the crimes she committed and attempted, to commit. It is a just treaty, though severe." It is intended as a notice to all mankind that any government that attempts what Germany attempted will meet with the concerted opposition of mankind and have meted out to it the same just retribution.

This met, as it ought to meet everywhere in the United States, with a mighty shout of approval. Thenceforward the President's task of winning and holding the attention of his auditors was accomplished. He devoted half his address to the treaty agreement as a treaty.

When he took up the League of Nations, he handled it in the same spirit. "Notice is given in the very first article of the treaty," he said, "that hereafter it will not be a matter of conjecture whether the other great nations of the world will combine against a wrong-doer, but a matter of certainty that nations contemplating what the government of Germany contemplated will not have to conjecture whether Great Britain, France and Italy and the great United States will join hands against them, and will know that mankind in serious ranks will defend to the last the rights of human beings wherever they are."

Germany is excluded from the League of Nations, said the President, for the present in order that she may undergo a period of probation during which she shall prove two things:

First, that she has really changed her constitution permanently; and, secondly, that she intends to administer that constitution in the spirit of its terms.

fool the best thing to do is to hire him a hall."
"Ugh!" gently called the punster.

ter. The President's argument, used upon consideration of the treaty, is an instrument of retribution against the enemy empire that started the war, was handled with excellent effect, and his questioning appeal in the peroration won a response that must have warmed his heart with encouragement.

"Why, therefore, do we hesitate to reduce the destiny of America? Why do we hesitate to support the most American thing that has ever been attempted? Why do we hesitate to details when the heart of the thing is sound? And the beauty of it, my fellow-citizens, is that the heart of America is sound."

and the Hohenzollerns are permanently out of business."

"It was at this point that the President introduced what was audibly taken as a bit of 'local color.'"

"There is not the least danger," he said, "that Americans, after a treaty has been drawn up exactly along the specifications supplied by America, will desert its associates. We are a people that redeems its honor. We are not and never will be quitters."

"Quitters" has been frequently mentioned by the Junior Senator of California in his tour through the Middle West.

While the President cannot be suspected of meaning it as such, an irrepressible punster in the balcony converted another of his phrases into a reference to Senator Johnson. Speaking to the virtue of exposure as a preventive of misdeeds, the President said:

"If you have a friend who is a

WIFE IS SHOT FOUR TIMES BY HUSBAND

Shot four times by her husband, William Stewart, following a jealous quarrel, Mrs. Mary Stewart, 26 years old, and the mother of three children, is lying today at the Eastbay sanitarium, with a fighting chance for life and praying that she may live, for her children's sake. Her husband, captured as he attempted to flee from the Emergency hospital, after he had been identified as the woman's assailant, is in the county jail, in custody of the Emeryville authorities. Marshal Edward Carey of Emeryville says that the husband has confessed.

The shooting occurred in a vacant lot near the Coast League baseball grounds in Emeryville. G. M. Todhunter, owner of a cafe in Emeryville, made the discovery late last night of the woman's body lying in the lot near Park street and San Pablo avenue, and standing over her was her husband, who, Todhunter says, was holding his revolver, from which four bullets had been fired.

"For God's sake, do what you can for her," Stewart is said to have exclaimed to Todhunter as the latter approached. The Emeryville police were notified, and Marshal Carey disarmed the husband and took the wounded woman to the Emergency hospital. She was later taken to the sanitarium and her husband placed under arrest at the hospital after he had attempted to leave the place, and lodged in the county jail.

According to the Emeryville police, the couple had been separated since August 1. Last night, according to the story told the police, her husband happened on the woman walking with another man and a quarrel arose, the husband entering the vacant lot while upbraiding the other. Stewart, according to the police, drew his revolver and fired on his wife. One bullet struck her in the jaw, one in the breast and the others in her legs.

Mrs. Stewart had been living at the Hayes apartments on Park street with her children, aged 3, 5 and 7. Stewart was employed as a riveter in Bay Point.

OAKLAND SALT, LOST IN BERING FOG, SURVIVES

A story of the frozen north became known when word was received that Frank Bell, local seaman long believed dead after disappearing from the schooner Louise in a Bering Sea fog, survived and landed his way back to civilization following the sailing of unknown seas, walking for days and living off raw fish and wild birds' eggs.

The ship, a unit of the local cod-fishing fleet, which works in the northern seas, is in port, members of the crew telling of Bell's supposed death and recovery. Bell is a veteran of the European war. After returning from France he shipped on the schooner as a sailor.

Fishing in a dory, not far from the Louise, several months ago, he lost his ship in a fog. For ten days he floated on the Bering Sea in the open boat, fighting death and starvation. He lived on raw fish, caught on his line.

At last he sighted land through the mists and made a successful landing at Port Moller. Weakened as he was, Bell knew his location and began walking toward the nearest settlements, twenty miles off. He was several days in making the trip. During his land adventures he lived on wild bird eggs, which he ate raw.

Arriving at a cannery settlement in an exhausted condition, Bell rested a few days and then went to work in the fish packing plant. He will arrive in Oakland soon.

MORMONISM IS TOPIC.

A series of lectures covering all phases of Mormonism will be given by Willard Dore at Porter hall, 1918 Grove street, Oakland, beginning Sunday evening at 7:45. Dore, now a business man in San Francisco, lived fifty years in Utah, and was successively a college president, member of the legislature, secretary to the governor and state insurance commissioner.

ALAMEDA SAVED PORT OF BREST

Local shipping men have just learned that Captain Henry F. Weedon, Alameda manager, saved the French port of Brest from a catastrophe resembling that of Halifax in extent. The captain saved his ship, a huge supply of oil which it was discharging, a large quantity of explosives stored near the handling and perhaps thousands of lives through his prompt action.

Gasoline, flowing through a hose from the ship, George G. Henry, to receptacles ashore, became unmanageable when the line broke. Gasoline covered the ship, water and docks. A spark, resultant from sharp contact between the metal portion of the hose and the ship's side, ignited the vessel. The flames spread rapidly, consuming the lifeboats and making headway toward the explosives. Captain Weedon, awakened from sleep, came on deck, surveyed the situation, then hurried below and turned off the gasoline flow. This action saved the port of Brest. It is said, the fire department arriving soon afterward and putting out the conflagration.

Krumich is the author of "Serbia Cruelty." He was born in the Balkans, but has lived in America for many years. He served for eighteen months at the front in the war.

Health Center Drive Is Launched Women Outline Plan at Luncheon

The woman's campaign committee, pledged to support the Alameda County Public Health Center, launched its drive for $200,000 today, when 100 prominent women, enrolled as active workers, gathered at luncheon at Hotel Oakland to hear the big program on behalf of public health outlined. Mrs. Everett J. Brown, wife of Superior Judge Brown, presided as chairman. Mrs. Horatio Bonestell is chairman of the woman's campaign committee. Headquarters have been opened in room 318, Syndicate building, with Mrs. A. D. Glasier, assisted by Mrs. Bertram Eddy and Mrs. Charles Peters in charge.

Addresses were made this afternoon by Dr. Daniel Crosby, Dr. Richard A. Bolt, Professor Thomas Reed and Mrs. Thomas Mitchell Potter. The entire county has been divided into campaign districts and the plan is to have a woman in each district to act as a center for the accommodation of the women workers. The Rotary club has given formal endorsement to the plan whereby health and welfare organizations of the county will be co-ordinated in the newly-established health center. Professor Thomas H. Reed, manager of the Building Fund Drive, which will be initiated on Monday, addressed the Rotarians at luncheon this week, giving emphasis to the maximum efficiency which the new program promises.

ROMANY CLUB PLANS OUTING

On Saturday afternoon, Romany club members and their friends will take the "Owl" at Pier 11, San Francisco at 4 o'clock for Bolinas bay, thence going over to Willow Camp, where they will camp out over night. On Sunday there will be swimming in the ocean and a hike of about eight miles to Mill Valley, where they will take the train for home. The trip on the ocean past the forts and around through the Golden Gate and around Point Bonita will be new to many. Those who wish to may return by boat from Bolinas bay on Sunday.

STEVEDORE STRIKE MAY END TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Hopes for a settlement of the stevedores' strike brightened today and at any hour, it is thought, definite announcement may be made of the walkout's end. Ship operators and representatives of the men will reach a definite agreement soon, it is thought along the waterfront. The ship clerks' union and the employers have reached an agreement on every phase except the close shop question, and this difficulty is expected to melt away today. The closed shop has been in force along the docks for some time, say clerks, delegates, and the owners are appealed to for continuance of the plan. The Pacific Steamship company announced that sailings today and tomorrow have been canceled—the Queen not leaving the north and the Senator remaining in port until a settlement has been reached.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

ADELE GARRISON

"You will wish," Mme. Hofer was saying reflectively—two fingers at her forehead in a palpable attempt to register absorbed thought—"new potatoes from Virginia, creamed, fresh asparagus tips, right from our own bed, a salad of romaine, water-cress and chives, some large strawberries with the stems, and a pot of coffee with those little cakes—you remember?"

"I remember perfectly," I said, and, indeed, the menu she recited was a familiar one to me. The dishes were special favorites of Dickie's and mine. It was a more elaborate and expensive luncheon than I had planned, but although the dishes were all those which required little time for cooking, I could linger over so bounteous a luncheon indefinitely.

"That will do splendidly," I said, "and now I'll freshen up a bit while I'm waiting; if you don't mind."

I started toward the house as if it were the most natural thing for me to lead the way. Mme. Hofer muttered an exclamation, beneath her breath, which only suspiciously sharpened ears like mine could have heard. The next moment she had caught step with me, and was smiling broadly, a smile that I was sure hid anger, perhaps even indignation.

"I will take you to my own bathroom," she said confidentially.

WORK.

Our tasks proclaim our inward souls Far more than words and spoken creeds. Unreached may be our fairest goals, But greatness lies in all our deeds.

The work we do our worth proclaims Far more than spoken praise can tell; Indifferent toil the laborer shames, But good is he who buildeth well.

The idler, though his speech be fair, Is but an idler, gift of tongue; By work alone can man declare The faith to which his soul has clung.

Our tasks express us as we are, Men judge us by the things we do; Good work proclaims the man afar, In bad work men our weakness view.

Forth from our hands must come our deeds. In substance must our lives be spun. We are no better than our deeds, No greater than the tasks we've done.

Who labors daily at his best, Who does good work from day to day, Has all his dreams of joy expressed And kept the faith, let come what may.

Writing SCENARIOS

[Today is presented the third article of a series by Monte M. Katterjohn, famous photoplay writer, on how to write a scenario. There was never so great a demand for good scenarios as now; the price paid authors was never so high. The TRIBUNE has received many letters of congratulation on its display enterprise in securing this series from the pen of Mr. Katterjohn as aid to those who seek to become scenario writers, either professionally or as a side line to some other occupation.]

By Monte M. Katterjohn

Noted Scenario Writer, Producer of Katterjohn Plays and Author of "The Flame of the Yukon," "Carmen of Klondike" and Other Famous Photoplays.

In the two previous articles I have told of the needs of the screen and of what the beginner in scenario writing should know, do and remember.

After absorbing the essentials of how to write a synopsis, we then step forward to a choice of theme. To start with, we know we must create a story which in its finality may be shown on a screen before minds of all classes.

CHOICE OF THEME.

The object must be entertainment. It stands to reason that the subject must be as wide an appeal as possible.

For this reason let us first exempt plays based on ancient or medieval times. These have proved unpopular with the masses. Likewise fairy stories.

Owners and managers of motion picture theaters throughout the country assert that their audiences do not want these kind of stories. The cost of producing such types of plays is more than that of modern day, owing to the fact that all the players must appear in the costumes of the period designated. This means extra cost for costumes.

COST AN ITEM.

The sets or scenery must also be directly according to this added to the expense. Therefore in selecting a theme it is advisable not to choose the above mentioned.

Sometimes a theme simply floats into the consciousness. The theme for my Alaskan play, "The Flame of the Yukon," came to me as I watched a pair of Alaskan dogs held in leash by a young woman in San Francisco.

"The Flame of the Yukon" was produced as a Triangle Kay-Bee picture, and was largely responsible for bringing Dorothy Dalton to the fore as an emotional actress of first rank.

The theme for "The Apostle of Vengeance," which I wrote especially for Bill Hart, came to me in church. The sermon was hunting from the pulpit the admonition, "Do not be an apostle for the sake of vengeance." This served as the keynote for what a short time later the screen drama about Kentucky mountain feudists.

DON'T DO THIS.

The person who sits down and decides to write a drama, for the screen simply because he heard of [Mr. Katterjohn in tomorrow's TRIBUNE will conclude his interesting series of articles with a discussion on "Arousing Interest; Episode and Chapter"]

From the BLACK TENTS

by AHMED ABULLAY

Author of "Scented Fear," and "Wrapped in Clay."

"It will be as you command, my dear young lady," he said. "As soon as we arrive in Morocco, I shall go with you to the American Consul and give him a sworn and signed affidavit of the whole affair. He will forward it through the regular channels, John Hewitt will be a free man once more within a short time, and you will instruct that chemist chap in London to destroy the counter poison and the formula and the letters, what?"

"That's the bargain!"

"And then you'll marry John."

"Yes, I am going to be your granddaughter-in-law." She smiled mischievously. "I am sorry I do not belong to the Black Tents—so sorry."

"You will belong to the Black Tents," came his curtly reply.

"How?"

"By marriage, my dear. A charming thought."

"I shall agree, 'Isn't it?'"

"Think yourself a good little detective," he went on, pouring himself a cup of coffee.

"Don't you think I am? I don't mean to rub it in, but you ought to know."

"Father!" He gave that same subtly elusive smile he had given when she had told him that, unless he complied with her terms, the influence of the Bayt al-Shahab would be broken and his own occupation gone, like Othello's. "And you won't how, would you say? Through love?"

"Why, yes. Through my love for John."

"And—of course, judging from your own viewpoint, you wouldn't you say that love is the most immoral, the most brutal thing in the world?"

"No. On the contrary, I would say that it is the finest, the most moral."

"You mean that?"

"Don't you?" she countered.

"Not a bit!"

"Oh! She felt a little ill at ease, wondering what he was driving at. "Why not?"

"Because I have you as a horrid example to prove the brutality of love, my dear."

"You have me?"

"Yes. You see, my dear Miss Parmelee, from your Occidental viewpoint—which may be right or wrong—human life is the greatest, most sacred possession of the world. From your Western viewpoint, those who do away with human life—like we of the Bayt al-Shahab—are the lowest of beings. Isn't that so?"

"Well—"

"Don't save my feelings, my dear. Don't let yourself be influenced by any personal liking you may have for me. Tell me frankly—aren't you?"

"Yes!" she answered defiantly.

"What then would you think of a man, or a woman, who, for selfish reasons—more selfish than the reasons of the Bayt al-Shahab—helps the latter in their nefarious career?"

BERKELEY TO JOIN IN WAR ON RATS

BERKELEY, Sept. 19.—The city council today voted to join the war on rats. Dr. Allen F. Gilligan of the state board of health appeared before the commissioners and outlined the situation. He said that so far no infected rats had been found in Berkeley, but that there was no telling when there might be. In the last six weeks, he said, three infected squirrels had been found in the Berkeley hills. He expressed the opinion, however, that if the rats were exterminated there would be no trouble from the squirrels.

The council authorized Commissioner of Health and Safety Charles Haywood to take the necessary steps. Dr. Gilligan said Berkeley should hire six rat catchers for six months' service at $100 a month each. This would make the cost of the campaign $6000. Dr. Ernest Tait, health officer, will be in active charge.

Councilmen pointed out that the city has no funds available for rat-catching, but said that the railroad commission has indicated that it will take this crisis into consideration in considering the protest of the city against the increased hydrant rate, to cover which $46,000 was appropriated. It is hoped that the needed $6000 can be diverted from this fund.

Concord Woman in Auto Crash, Hurt

CONCORD, Sept. 19.—Mrs. W. N. Benson of this place narrowly escaped serious injury and possible death Thursday morning when she drove her automobile into a ditch at the side of the tunnel highway to avoid crashing into another automobile.

As she was driving along the highway a large haywagon suddenly loomed ahead standing still on the thoroughfare. As Mrs. Benson approached the wagon and started to turn out to pass the vehicle, she observed another car approaching from the opposite direction at a good rate of speed.

She drove headlong into the ditch ten feet deep. The car turned on one side and Mrs. Benson was thrown out but escaped with bruises.

Alameda Free of Contagious Disease

ALAMEDA, Sept. 19.—At a meeting of the physicians of the city, called yesterday by Dr. Arthur H. Hironymous, city health officer, the decision was reached that as a precautionary measure all cases of ordinary pneumonia must immediately be reported to the health authorities. In this way a check can be put on the spreading of the disease which resembles pneumonia, but is a form of the plague. This disease has appeared in certain localities in other cities.

Alameda at present has no cases of any kind of contagious disease, according to the report of the city physician.

Alameda Elks to Present Farce

ALAMEDA, Sept. 19.—The presentation of the Alameda lodge of Elks' annual charity event this year will take the form of a farce entitled "Nothing But the Truth."

The production will be given by local talent, which will be coached by William Varcoe. It will be held in the Strand theater on the nights of December 8, 9, 10.

STUDENT SENDS $15 TO U. OF C.

BERKELEY, Sept. 19.—Expressing appreciation for the benefits reaped from four years of study at the University of California, an unnamed Hindu student today sent a check of $15 to the student union city for the purchase of books for the campus library.

The check accompanied a quaintly worded letter received by Librarian Harold Leupp. Adhering to the student's request the money was turned over to the board of regents and will be used for the purchase of books on India.

The letter follows in part: "I beg to introduce myself as a Hindu student, who graduated from the University of California recently. With the view of continuing my studies further, I worked in summer vacation, and when I returned here a week before for going to the University of Illinois, I find that I have hardly enough money to pay the train fare and also to meet the college expenses of at least one term."

"In my undergraduate period, I always thought that I should do something for the University after my graduation. But I deeply regret to say that my above financial situation can't enable me to do anything. And, if I postpone, I still feel doubtful as to whether I will ever be able, because something else may then be waiting for me."

"I remain, Sir
"Your dutiful student,
"A HINDU STUDENT."

Alameda Marches in Victory Parade

ALAMEDA, Sept. 19.—Participating in the parade of the First Division in New York City and Washington, which was headed by General Pershing, was Dr. Omar H. Hironymous, city health officer, and Harold E. Hironymous, city physician. The Alamedans have been overseas for many months, serving with the Army of Occupation in Germany since the signing of the armistice.

Boy Scouts Raise Fund to Hire Chief

ALAMEDA, Sept. 19.—Much interest centers in the drive of the Alameda Boy Scouts to raise sufficient funds with which to engage the services of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Hironymous, city physician, to-day the $1000 mark had been passed with subscriptions coming in hourly.

The Boy Scout movement in the city has grown rapidly during the past two years. Now 200 Alameda youths are now members of the organization. Prominent citizens of the city are backing the Boy Scouts in the drive.

AUSTRALIAN TENNIS CHAMPIONS TO PLAY AT BERKELEY COURTS

Champion William Johnston Recognized As One of the Greatest Players of All Time

The William M. Johnston who is coming back to his home town tomorrow to help repel the invasion of the famous Australians, Norman E. Brooks and Gerald L. Patterson, is a "great and worthy champion," according to Eastern critics. Reports from Forest Hills, where Johnston recently defeated Tilden in the national singles championship, indicate that Johnston is playing the best game of his career.

Fred Hawthorne, noted sport critic, writing in the New York Tribune, says:

"I have watched the new champion in most of his important matches for the last five years; I have seen him defeat Maurice McLaughlin, Williams, Lindley Murray and Gerald Patterson, but his defeat of Tilden was his crowning achievement, in my opinion. The Australian's victory must be set down as a great triumph for sound tennis, for Johnston has always been regarded as the greatest player of his time, the most evenly developed of any player in the world."

Johnston plays the American game, a "perfect American game," critics have called it. He is speed personified. He never loses a chance to put power back of the ball or to "kill" it when there seems an opening. Johnston plays the American game, a "perfect American game," critics have called it. Chicken Hawks Happens Along And Proves Star

By BOB SHAND

The Oaks lost a ball game five to nothing to the Senators at the local ball yesterday but they found a grand outfielder and Foreman Howard in more than satisfied. He found his new star a pair of weeks ago and gave him the gate after a brief try-out. He redressed him last spring and again sent him his way but the kid was determined and showed up at the ball yard yesterday.

"How's tricks?" chirped the "bushy" replied the Oakland boss, "get into a uniform and maybe I'll let you play the season out with the Oaks."

The kid got into uniform and in the fifth inning got into the ball game and right field in place of Pop Arlett.

And all he did was to lace out two beautiful hits in two times at bat and make a couple of sweet throws to the plate from deep right, heading one runner off and coming close to getting the other.

The "bushy" was Nelson (Chicken) Hawks, a strictly local product and one of the fastest outfielders that ever cavorted in this league. Incidentally Del Howard yanked him out of the game when he was named for the balance of the season and if he wants a contract next spring he can have one.

Hawks has been playing with the Richmond Elks and playing mighty good ball for the Dietrich outfit. In his spare time he was helping John D. make a living by working in the Standard Oil plant. He is faster than a shot and has a strong arm and an arm of steel and is an accurate thrower. His fellow-bushers never named him a "chicken" until he was dropped and he was fooled by a few high ones and still remain popular with the cash customers.

The Oaks lost the ball game because they could not hit Percy. The big Senatorial twirler had one of his good days and when he is good he is very good. The Oaks got but six wallops off Percy and they came in six different innings. And there never was a time during the combat when the locals looked like scoring. Six of our gang were dropped and the only one to draw a free pass.

Cy Falkenberg, chucked for the Oaks and Cy, the enemy hit him. He was not a bad player but he was a ball game and he was a ball game. He was not a bad player but he was a ball game and he was a ball game.

A ball game can't compete against a presidential visit. Herbie McFarland discovered this starting yesterday. Herbie thought the parade was to start an hour earlier otherwise he would have made different arrangements.

Rumors that the Oakland players are kicking because they did not get a "cut" of the gate receipts at the local ball game yesterday are unfounded. It is a custom to share the "gate" with the athletes in exhibition games. Once in a while a big hearted manager who has been making a lot of dough during the season will "cut" with the players but the P. club and its prosperity have yet to get acquainted.

Officers were elected and plans were outlined for the Central Oakland Tennis Club at their first meeting at the Oakland Athletic Club yesterday. Following are the officers: President, Eugene V. Vinton; Vice President, Eugene V. Vinton; Secretary, Eugene V. Vinton; Treasurer, Eugene V. Vinton.

JOLTS WORK & UPPER CUTS

The allied promoters of Dreamland and San Francisco, have arranged a nice looking card for tonight in the main event Al Norton will see his first start since his return from France. His opponent will be Valley Trambitas, a former champion.

Willie Meehan has received word from Jack Curley that the east will fall for a Dempsey-Meehan bout some time in November. Curly wants to initiate the match on the coast and Meehan is far enough away from the coast to make a fight a possibility.

Frank Lawlor wants to send a hook up with the Battling O'Leary and a fight with the Battling O'Leary. Frank Lawlor wants to send a hook up with the Battling O'Leary and a fight with the Battling O'Leary.

Young Sharkey and Young Farrell simply MUST meet again. They would not object to seeing them at every show.

Frank Taber, manager of a million boxers is still on his honey-moon but he is getting back and get to work on his new typewriter.

Jack Thompson is sticking around looking for trouble. He would like to see the second meeting between the rival managers are very friendly the match may be made.

McVey is employed in one of the Coast League games. He is going to accept the invitation.

Barbs and Thistles Play Soccer Sunday

Soccer is gaining hold of the foot-balling public judging from the large attendance that witnessed the Barham-Olympic game last Sunday at the stadium.

Prohibition Did Not Make Any Difference

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Jack Kearney, Jack Dempsey's manager, has set a price of $250,000 for the heavyweight king's services, according to moral editor Tom McCarry, who came over with an offer of $100,000 for a fight in London. Barry is Otto Dietrich, his agent, and he has his price at $250,000 and refused to consider anything else.

TAGGING THE BASES

Manager Wade Kilfefer and Catcher Boies of the Angels, featured in their team's win over the Seals at Los Angeles yesterday, were the stars of the second straight defeat the Seals received.

Kilfefer got three hits, one being a homer in the third inning when Boies who had struck out in the first and second in the eighth was a triple, scoring Boies who had also a triple. His other hit was a double.

Johnny Couch started for the Seals, but was relieved by Lundberg in the third inning. Aldridge pitched a steady game for the Angels.

Aldridge and Ellis each got two hits in three times at bat.

Joe Connolly, the young outfielder who started out with the Seals and was farmed to Los Angeles upon the arrival of Herbie Hunter, was back in a Seal uniform yesterday and played in Fitzsimmons' place in right field. He hit a double and scored the only Seal run.

CLUBS IN TRIBUNE LEAGUE KEPT BUSY

Out-of-Town Managers Are Anxious to Book Games With Them; Bush Doings Sunday

By EDDIE MURPHY.

With the start of The TRIBUNE Midwinter League, three weeks from Sunday, it is expected that a number of the teams now playing independent ball and that will not be in the league will retire for the winter months. Managers of out-of-town teams seem to be breaking their necks to book games with teams that will be in The TRIBUNE league, and several good games will take place next Sunday as a result. The Holt Caterpillars of Stockton will be one of the teams that will beat the first going of The TRIBUNE league, and they will be at San Leandro next Sunday afternoon to play the Tractors in a second game, the first being at Stockton last Sunday, when the Hols won by an 8 to 7 score.

Stockton fans showed the San Leandro boys that they are a noisy bunch and loyal supporters of their team. So next Sunday the San Leandro boys will put on a little class and noise. They will have a forty piece band located in the grandstand, while hundreds of employees of the Best Grader plant are making loud noise-makers. Bill Wagner reports fine progress in work on the huge arena, that he thinks will be ready for the start of the league.

Neely O'Hara, manager of the Mare Island Shipbuilders team is another who has grabbed one of the TRIBUNE league teams for an attraction with his club. He has picked Manuel Duran's Halton-Dillers of Alameda to visit at Vallejo next Sunday and tangle with the Shipbuilders. It will be the second meeting between these clubs, the Shipbuilders winning the last argument, 2 to 1.

Charles Prickett was in the box for the Alameda-Dillers game and he signed a couple of new men to play a ball game for the Halton-Dillers, but this time it will be for a couple of months. Bert "Smiles" Cole will work for the Shipbuilders. The Shipbuilders will be strengthened by the addition of Tommy Fitzsimmons, local boy, who was with the Brookings Dodgers. O'Hara promised to strengthen his club any time that he discovered a weakness, and he is living up to that promise.

Neely may have a couple of more new men to wear uniforms of his club before next Sunday.

CHOCKY AND RICHMOND

A game that is not only the talk of the fans of Contra Costa county, but that of the fans of the entire Bay Area, is the game between the Richmond Elks and the Richmond Shipbuilders. The game will be played at the Richmond ball park, between Tom Cahalan's Sugarcats and the Richmond Elks. Tom Cahalan's Sugarcats, who have been very consistently at Fruitvale Recreation Park, will travel to San Jose Sunday and play the Elks. The Elks have been going along fine.

A four-run rally in the fifth inning that forced Dale to quit the box, gave the Elks a 7 to 3 win over the Sugarcats. The Tigers held a 3 to 0 lead to that time. Salt Lake scored two runs in each of the seventh and eighth innings.

Plan Series to Settle Row of Baseball Men

SAN JOSE, Sept. 19.—Bringing to a climax a season of bitter factionalism in semi-pro baseball circles here, Manager G. G. Bradford of the San Jose Bears issued a challenge today to E. C. Giddings, manager of the San Jose Merchants, for a five-game series with the understanding that the winner collect 50 per cent of the gate receipts. Bradford came back immediately with the proposal that this suggestion as yet, Bradford stated that his line-up, in the event of a loss series, would be constituted by Nino, Sheppard and Barreau as pitcher; Pratt as catcher; Lyons, first base; Devine, second base; Menges, third base; Paul, left field; Horn, Farrell, Parkerson and H. Paul, outfielders.

Bradford stated that this aggregation was satisfactory and that his line-up would be constituted by Catcher Jerry Coleman, Pitcher Dimock, Rudolph and Andy Phillips; Perry, first base; Merle Byrne, second base; Hal Rhyno, third base; Tony Lamurra, left field; Paul, right field; O'Connell, O'Brien and Blessing, fielders.

The factional fight among the semi-professional baseball players here started several weeks ago when the men constituted Bradford's team deserted Bradford's aggregation. Since then they have staged rival games and the fans and even the newspapers here have "taken sides," one local paper supporting the Bears and the other the Merchants.

It is expected that a large amount of money will change hands in the event that the series is finally arranged.

BERKELEY HIGH WILL TACKLE PALO ALTO

In the first game of the season the Berkeley High football team will settle their American football differences with the Palo Alto Military Academy, eleven California Field at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The Berkeley boys, under the leadership of Coach Hunt, Captain "Duke" Witter, boast of a strong team, and although very little is known about the team from down the peninsula, the Berkeley boys expect to come out on top.

Coach Hunt announced that none of the fellows that played on the Northern California championship team of last year will start the game, but a new team will start and they will be substituted by the veterans of the squad who number forty, as the game progresses.

Industrial League Games at Alameda and Berkeley Lots

Two games will be played in the Saturday Industrial league tomorrow. The first game will be between the Standard Zerkones, who lost all their games for the first half of the schedule, and the Oakland Elks, who are in the lead. The race in the Industrial league is a close one. The Oakland Elks are the favorites to win the league. The game will be played at the Oakland Athletic Club.

Two Games Tomorrow in Gas Engine Race

The players on the Skandia-Pacific team of the local Gas Engine Manufacturers' league will rest up tomorrow to increase their standing in the league. The team is led by the Skandia-Pacific players, who have won three games and one defeat. The team will remain idle tomorrow, while the Oakland Elks and the Great Westerns will play at the Oakland Athletic Club. The game will be played at the Oakland Athletic Club.

Tribune Marathon Prizes to Be Presented at the Kinema Tonight

If you want to see The TRIBUNE marathon prizes presented, be at the Kinema theater early tonight. The amateur runners are going to pack the big theater at Fifteenth and Broadway, and they are going to make the well-known welkin ring.

The presentation of prizes to the eighty runners will take place at 8 o'clock, but the boys and their friends will be there much earlier to secure choice seats.

District Attorney Ezra Decoto, himself a famous runner in his college days, will present the athletes with their trophies.

Aside from the presentation of prizes the big feature will be the moving pictures of the Seventh Annual TRIBUNE-Lake Merritt Marathon. The camera man was on the job every minute that the race lasted. He got some splendid films. Every starter in the big race is shown in the pictures, and most of the runners will for the first time see themselves as others see them.

Better be at the Kinema not later than 8 o'clock. It's going to be "some" show.

ARMY FOOD IS NOW OVERDUE FOUR WEEKS

With the passing of another week since the announcement that shipment of army food from Fort Mason to Oakland by parcel post would begin "in a day or two," it was said today by Major W. J. Thompson, in charge of the distribution of the surplus supplies, that the first Oakland order probably would be shipped before tonight.

three days. Distribution was delayed by the non-arrival from the East of many of the articles for which orders were taken.

In the meantime there have been several requests for the refund of money, but nothing was done in this regard, as it was believed the food soon would be distributed.

Approximately $10,000 in orders were sold through the Oakland post-office.

Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough said today that he intends to use the same distribution as first determined upon. The goods will be given out in a tent on the grounds of the Defenders' Recreation club at Thirteenth and Harrison streets. The tent was erected soon after the orders were placed, but was taken down about ten days ago. It can be set up, however, in a few hours, said the postmaster.

Despairing of the receipt of the full allotment of goods, the quarter-master's department at Fort Mason last Friday began filling the orders in the rotation received.

According to Major Thompson, 1600 orders were received, and the first one from Oakland was in the 200 list, which explains why the shipment was not reached sooner. He said, however, that the Oakland cry probably would begin in two or three days.

BOAT EACH WEEK TO OREGON
PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 15—
Weekly sailings of vessels of the Pacific Steamship Co. out of Port-

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Gold coin valued at $1,000,000 has just been withdrawn from the sub-treasury here for shipment to Spain, it was announced today. The sum of $500,000 in gold coin also has been withdrawn for shipment to Central America.

If you saw it in THE TRIBUNE, tell them so. Thank you.

Husband Unfaithful; Wife Given Divorce

The mystery of two shades of hair in a lady's hair receiver was solved by Judge T. W. Harris yesterday, during the trial of the divorce suit of Mrs. Helen Jackson against Clyde Jackson. The court found that during the absence of the plaintiff from her home her husband had been unfaithful. A decree of divorce was given to Mrs. Jackson. The defendant is a former policeman, now living in Stockton.

Judge St. Sure granted a divorce to Mrs. Margaret Dame from Fred Dame, who, according to the testimony, threw her out of the house at 1 o'clock in the morning and followed her ejection by throwing out a barrel of dishes and her other personal effects.

FATALLY SHOT FOR TIPPING
HAT TO WOMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Shot by Edgar Woodcock, manager of the State Mining Bureau exhibit at the Ferry building, Edward C. Kelly, 32 years old, employed in the circulation department of a local newspaper, died today and Woodcock is held in the city prison, the aftermath of a sensational shooting affair late last night at the corner of Van Ness avenue and Market street. Woodcock says that Kelly had insulted his wife, and that he shot him after having demanded an apology. Mrs. Woodcock says that as Kelly passed her on the street he tipped his hat and jangled money in his pockets. Warren Cooper, a mining engineer, living at the Palace Hotel, was witness of the shooting, being with the Woodcocks at the time. Kelly, at the hospital, said that he was passing the three and tipped his

Jingle Jolts
By Harvey E. Workale*USELESS THINGS

No wise man yet has told us why old nature made the pesky fly, it never should exist; it nips us on our heels and toes and skates around upon our nose, and foisters on our wrist.

No wise man yet has hinted at one good excuse for mouse or rat, and both of them should go; they eat our grain and steal our cheese, and harbor microbes, germs and fleas, and scare our women so.

No wise man yet has proved to me why there should be a stinger, a fish that people scorn; it wiggles through the ocean foam, and in the breakers likes to roam, and ply its deadly horn.

Oh, there are scores of useless bugs, and things that chaw impudent rags, which never should exist; and few there are who'd shed big tears if we should banish profiteers; they never would be missed.

hat to the woman, thinking her an acquaintance of his. He says that Woodcock ran after him and shot him without further comment. Woodcock says that he followed Kelly and demanded an apology that Kelly grappled with him for the gun, and that he shot in the excitement of the struggle. He said that his wife had complained on several occasions of being insulted by men at this corner. According to the prisoner, Cooper and Mrs. Woodcock, they had had dinner together, and had discussed the practice of men insulting women. Woodcock had walked behind Cooper and his wife, and seen her accosted twice, beating one man and finally engaging in the fight with Kelly in which the latter was shot. The police are investigating the circumstances of the shooting.

CHEERING WILSON
COST HIM $100

L. A. Verriek cheered lustily as the President's auto passed yesterday; then he returned to his store at 2963 San Pablo avenue—and instead of cheering, swore. For while he was out watching the President, according to his complaint to the police today, burglars entered his premises and stole $100 worth of tobacco, small goods of various kinds and looted his cash register.

N. Knube, 221 Ninth street, reports somewhat the same trouble to the police; only he found goods instead of losing them. When he returned home he found a package of silverware in his back yard, which the police say, was stolen from the Palace and St. Francis hotels. The burglar evidently threw it in Knube's yard while making a "getaway." Knube turned the property over to the police.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain—How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not, as some believe, to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well. Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quart of water, right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advertisement.
